Faculty of Hospitality Management and Catering Technology (FHMCT)

M.S.Ramaiah College of Hotel Management established in 1993 has become a constituent faculty known as Faculty of Hospitality Management and Catering Technology of M.S. Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences (FHMCT-MSRUAS), a Private University established in Karnataka since the academic year 2014-15. The University is sponsored by the prestigious M.S. Ramaiah group of educational institutions known for its academic excellence and social commitment of creating responsible citizens with humane values. Situated in the heart of Bangalore the FHMCT-MSRUAS is renowned for its cosmopolitan culture, multilingual population and long tradition of hospitality management education.

All the courses in Hospitality Management and Catering Technology have been designed based on successful programmes offered by reputed Hospitality Schools and Universities in the West as well as in the East. The curriculum offered is outcome based and helps students to develop critical thinking, creative and innovative abilities and to imbibe relevant practical skills for a smooth transition from academics to the real life work environment. Students gain experience in dealing with real life situations and problem solving skills through assignments, role plays and student centric participatory learning. Over the last several years, students have consistently proved to be the best by securing First Ranks and Gold Medals in the University Exams. "At FHMCT-MSRUAS each subject is specifically designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills critical to a successful career in the hospitality industry."

Dean's Message

The hospitality industry encompasses a diversity of fields within the service industry such as hotels, resorts, restaurants, event planning, theme parks, facility management and others from the tourism industry. Hospitality Management not only concerns accommodation and food and beverage services but also covers areas like meetings and events, gaming, entertainment and recreation and tourism services. In such a broad based industry, career opportunities are extensive. As the hotel and hospitality industry moves increasingly from a skill-based to a knowledge based industry, higher learning has become increasingly critical to opening career doors and helping managers to be more fully attuned to the culture, services and competitive aspects of the sector.

Dean, FHMCT

Hospitality Management is a vibrant, challenging and exotic career. Graduates can find employment in hotels, restaurants, convention centres, casinos and special event management companies. Hence this program is ideal for people who are mobile and free spirited and eager for new experiences and cultures. The Hospitality Management Program delves into international hotel operations management, technological applications in hospitality management and large scale services management, as well as small business operations.
