Doctoral Colloquium - 2024 on Business Competitiveness for Attaining Sustainability (DC - BCAS 2024)

A Step Towards Vision Viksit Bharat - 2047
7th & 8th June 2024

The Doctoral Colloquium on Business Competitiveness for Attaining Sustainability (DC-BCAS 2024) was hosted at Faculty of Management and Commerce, Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences. The event focused on aligning business competitiveness with sustainability to achieve the ambitious Vision Viksit Bharat 2047, a vision articulated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi to transform India into a developed nation by its 100th year of independence.

The colloquium commenced on June 7, 2024, with a ceremonial lamp lighting by the Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Kuldeep K. Raina, and the Chief Guests Dr. Suresh Prabhu, Former Central Minister, GoI and Dr. Balakrishnan I., MEITY. The gathering included notable keynote speakers such as Dr. Suresh Prabhu, Dr. Jon Thomas, Ms. Sangeeta Menon, and Dr. Vishal Shah, who collectively emphasized the importance of integrating sustainability with business practices to achieve long-term viability and growth.

The Conference Chair, Dr. Subhadeep Mukherjee highlighted the crucial role of doctoral research in fostering innovation and providing actionable insights for sustainable business practices. The technical sessions were divided into various tracks covering Human Resources, Economics, Finance, Design Thinking, Marketing, Operations, General Management, and Global Business Competitiveness. These sessions facilitated the exchange of groundbreaking research and collaborative ideas among scholars, practitioners, and policymakers.

On the second day, the discussions continued and concluded with a Valedictory Function. Ms. Sangeeta Menon and Dr. Vishal Shah provided valuable insights into research publishing and the imperative of genuine sustainability efforts in business.

The colloquium concluded with a certificate distribution ceremony, recognizing the participation of all attendees. The Best Paper Presentation Award was announced later, honouring the innovative and impactful research paper in the field of business sustainability. This event successfully fostered meaningful dialogue, contributing significantly towards the realization of Vision Viksit Bharat 2047.

Objectives:

The primary objective of the DCBCS 2024 was to foster meaningful discussions, share groundbreaking research, and collaborate on ideas that could influence the trajectory of India's sustainable development. The colloquium aimed to create a community of scholars, practitioners, and policymakers dedicated to making a tangible impact towards Vision Viksit Bharat 2047,

My Journey at FMC

My name is Abhilash S, a Mechanical Engineer driven by the goal to improve our family business in supply chain management. My pursuit of an MBA degree led me to the Faculty of Management and Commerce at Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences, a decision that is both transformative and enriching.

The engaging learning environment, coupled with the faculty's expertise, helped me develop my analytical and leadership skills. Working on various projects and case studies, I learned to handle complex business situations, making informed decisions that match industry standards. The hands-on experience through internships and workshops further strengthened my ability to apply classroom concepts to real-world challenges.

My time at Faculty of Management and Commerce was not just about academic growth but also about personal development. The collaborative atmosphere and the diverse student community broadened my perspectives, allowing me to build a strong professional network.

In total, my MBA journey at Ramaiah University has been crucial in equipping me with the skills and knowledge to drive our family business towards greater success in the competitive supply chain industry.
